

WISSAHICKON SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The Wissahickon Marching Unit is proud to be competing in tonight's Cavalcade of Bands. An integral part of the Music Department, this year's Marching Unit fields 92 musicians and 64 band front members and will be competing in the American Conference. The students in the Marching Unit represent the Ambler area, both at competitions and football games as well as various local and out-of-state parades. The group receives active support from the School Board, District Administration and especially from the Wissahickon Band Parents' Association.

This year's show was designed with a total entertainment concept in mind and features music and drill of various eras and styles. The musical selections include:

- Meadowlands - a traditional Russian folksong
- Chattanooga Choo Choo - percussion feature
- What Kind of Fool Am I
- Echano
- What I Did For Love

This year's unit is under the field direction of Drum Majors Debbie Robinson and Ruth Ann Pattee. The instructional staff includes: Earl Paine, Band Director; Bud Johnston, Drill Instructor & Show Designer; John Knebl, Glenda Hunter and Phil Hunter, Assistant Directors; Sandy Reed, Twirling and Swing Flags; Bill Cain, Percussion; Sue Lannan, Rifles; and Cory Beyer, Silks.

The members and staff of the Marching Unit take this opportunity to wish all competing units the best of luck for a fine performance and successful season.

We hope you enjoy our show.
