

UPPER DUBLIN MARCHING CARDINALS

For more than a decade the Upper Dublin Marching Cardinals have been putting audiences in the mood for enjoyable entertainment with their selections drawn from the orchestral, big band and show tune idioms.

Often selecting familiar standards, the band has used the "classics" of each musical style, shifting gears several times during its performance.

Continuing with this show style, the band this year performs the following repertoire:

- |                                  |                  |
